LOADING THE CAMEL.

Peculiarities in his Behavior in Striking Contrast to the Elephant.

The camel, when he is not eating or drinking or being loaded, is invariably chewing the cud. His long crooked jaw is in perpetual motion, and when he is told to lie down to receive his burden he does so without varying this incessant masticatory process. He awkwardly bends his fore knees, drags his hind legs under him, and comes to the ground with a curious kind of flop. All this time his long, melancholy face shows not the slightest indication that he knows what he is lying down for; and this unmistakable hypocrisy, I think, stamps the camel as an animal of a very high order of intellect. But in a few moments the expression on the camel's face undergoes a striking alteration. As he sees the driver approaching him with a box on his shoulder he seems at last to understand the indignity and torture to which he is about to be submitted, and the astonishment, virtuous indignation, and the dismay on the ill-used animal's countenance on the stony heart of the driver. They never have the slightest effect. The man binds the first box on the wretched animal's back and goes away to get another. Then the camel, wisely abandoning his efforts to move man to compassion, points his hairy nose upward, and howls his wrongs to the skies.

Never in circus, pantomime or show have I seen anything half so ludicrous as the camel's appearance at that moment. His upper lid is curled back from the teeth, his under lip doubles up and drops down as though he had no further use for it, his great mouth opens so wide that one can see about half a yard down his throat, and out of the cavern thus revealed come a series of the most astonishing howls that ever startled the air—howls of such abject misery that it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the camel's heart is breaking; and this impression is strengthened by the tears that flow copiously down the wailing animal's elongated cheeks and drip from the end of his nose. In the utterance of each note of woe the camel seems to be exerting the utmost power of his lungs, but he is all the time holding a large force in reserve, and as the driver adds box after box to the pile on his back, a howl more resonant and heart-rending than the last testifies to each addition to the creature's misery; and never, except when he is absolutely engaged in trumpeting his agonies into space, are the great watery eyes of the camel removed from the person of his persecutor; they follow him wherever he goes and express through their tears contempt, indignation, astonishment and dismay. I think it must have been this extraordinary habit on the part of the "ship of the desert" that gave rise to the well known expression: "It's the last straw that breaks the camel's back." But the eastern driver has no fear of any such catastrophe, and piles on the load until it reaches almost the proportions of an elephant's burden. Then, the cases being bound fast with ropes, the camel is told to rise, and the animal, feeling that he has conscientiously done his whole duty by entering his protest at every stage of the work, contentedly accepts the unavoidable result, stops his tears, suppresses his cries, gets up on his feet, and, resuming his occupation of chewing his cud, is ready for the week's march that usually lies before him.

FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES A. GARFIELD,
OF OHIO;
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
OF NEW YORK.

NOTHING IN IT.

A dispatch from Chicago dated yesterday is as follows: "The Journal's Washington special says: A letter has been produced from Jere Black, dated in 1878, in which he completely vindicates Garfield from any wrong in connection with the Credit Mobilier matter. The fact is, this matter has all been answered several times. General Garfield was exonerated by the committee which investigated the affairs of the Union Pacific road and the Credit Mobilier. The Democratic powder was all burned years ago, and they have only the general assaults and the manufactured evidence that they would heap on the Angel Gabriel if he was nominated on the Republican ticket."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Senator Edmunds of Vermont declined the Republican nomination in advance, and yet his name was put before the Chicago Convention and ballots were persistently cast for him. Although Horatio Seymour refuses to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination, his name will no doubt be submitted to the Cincinnati Convention. His acceptance of the possible nomination is, however, considered doubtful. This uncertainty may boost the boom of some declared candidate.

The New York Herald's Washington reporter says Seymour's refusal to run leaves the Democrats at sea, and it is without a doubt a serious disappointment. The same authority says that Garfield will not make any reply to the charges brought against him, as he replied years ago. There is still talk in some quarters in New York of the possibility of the Democrats taking up Grant as a candidate. Abram S. Hewitt has also been seriously named recently.

The New York Times says it has direct and positive information that on Monday last a meeting, attended by a number of prominent Democrats, was held in Tilden's house, and that a telegram was addressed to Payne of Ohio, asking him if he would accept the second place on the ticket with Tilden. The nature of Payne's reply has not been made public, but it is believed to have been satisfactory.

As a matter of course, the character of General Garfield has been assailed by the Democratic journals since his nomination for the Presidency by the Republicans. No man in his position can escape calumny. A scandalous biography of Gladstone, the British premier, has just appeared in a Turkish newspaper. And yet Gladstone's character is above reproach.

A large business is done in supplying the San Francisco market with gull and murr eggs gathered on the Farallon Islands. This trade has been entirely in the hands of the Farallon Egg Company, but now the lighthouse keepers on the islands are disputing their claim to a monopoly of the business. The matter has been left to the authorities at Washington to decide.

The delegate in the Chicago Convention who maintained that one vote boom for Garfield through two days of incessant balloting was not an Ohio man. He was W. A. M. Grier of Hazleton, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania. His name should be remembered.

The prominent Democratic candidates are Tilden and Seymour in New York, Thurman and Pendleton in Ohio, David Davis and Governor Palmer in Illinois, Hendricks in Indiana, Bayard in Delaware, Hancock in Pennsylvania, McClellan in New Jersey, and Field in California.

An open letter from Horatio Seymour has been published, in which he says: "I am not a candidate for any nomination to be made by that body, nor could I accept such nomination if the Convention should see fit to present my name to the public."

Senator Blaine now feels that he needs rest. He is going to White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, for a month. He will take an active part in the campaign after the first of August, speaking in Maine and Ohio.

B. F. Leete, C. C. Stevenson, T. D. Edwards and others just from the East, say that the whole country is wild for Garfield. A Democratic paper said that the nomination was "an inspiration."

In the Cincinnati Convention there will be 738 delegates. The Territories are allowed no representation. A two-thirds vote is necessary to nominate, and the unit rule is sure to be enforced.

Next Tuesday will find the Democratic delegates assembled in Cincinnati for the purpose of nominating a Presidential candidate. What a waste of time that will be.

If Blaine would come west and make a speech or two it would secure the States of Nevada and California for Garfield. It would be just like Blaine.

The Gold Hill News says that the Carson and Colorado is to be broad gauge. It remarks that "the Reno and Colorado" would be a better name.

The man who appropriated a lot of U. S. castings and carried them away from Candelaria must have been very anxious to steal something.

Candelaria has been left out of the census, and the True Future complains that its residents have not been counted in.

How would this sound for a Democratic ticket? For President, Petroleum V. Nasby; for Vice President, Denis Kearney.

Edison's electric railway is certainly a wonder. But what about his electric light?

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Candelaria is 5,842 feet above the sea level.

A brittle little boy in Eureka has had his arms broken five times in two years.

Cayuse saddle horses are now sold at the Dalles for $5 to $20 a piece.

Tuesday Henry Martin, of Bodie, shot and killed a Piute Indian at Bodie ranch, three miles from that town.

A Chinese cook employed at the Sutro tunnel was stopped on the grade-roads last Thursday evening by masked highwaymen, who covered him with revolvers and compelled him to disgorge.

Fourteen large bands of sheep will shortly pass through Honey Lake valley. The first band has arrived in Big Meadows. The total will be in the neighborhood of $150,000. They are from the Sacramento valley.

Two hundred thousand shad are now on the way from the east. They are to be placed in the Sacramento at Tehama. B. B. Redding goes to Sacramento to take charge of the shipment next Saturday.

E. A. Moses, while visiting Bell's mill near Boone's ferry, on the Columbia, looked into a snout machine and allowed his whiskers to come in contact with a revolving shaft, the consequence of which was that he had them torn from his face.

Several Piute Indians are now engaged by sheep owners in the shearing business. They work well and faithfully, and those of them who have had experience in the business shear on an average about 50 sheep a day.

Robert Peacock, aged 37, and Dennis Fille, aged 24, are accused in Oakland of feloniously assaulting two girls aged 7 and 5 years. Peacock has been held in $3,000 bail, while Fille awaits examination.

Says the San Diego Union: The primitive method of mining by arrastra is still in vogue in many places in Lower California. Charley Ellis has been at work at the Guaymas with one of these primitive machines, and from two weeks "run" he cleaned up $140.

The Humboldt river has not yet overflowed its banks and the owners of hay ranches in the valley are feeling despondent. The Battle Mountain Messenger tells them not to give up all hopes yet, as the spring has been cold and backward, and there is plenty of snow in the mountains to make high water when it does turn warm.

According to the True Future this happened in a quiet place: The "Hard Man" from Candelaria, glared on the "Hard Man" from Pickhandle Gulch. At the end of three minutes, as each went his way, the fondest mother in the land could not have recognized her son in either of the disputants.

The Marysville Appeal reports that F. D. Syfer, an employee of that paper, had an adventure last Monday night, on the Sumnerville road, where he was stopped by a highwayman.

The latter leveled a pistol at him, and ordered him to dismount. While parrying, the fellow slightly dropped his weapon, and Syfer struck him across the face, put spurs to his horse and escaped.

GARFIELD'S SPEECH.

Delivered at Chicago in Presenting the Name of Sherman for the Presidency.

The following is a portion of Gen. Garfield's speech delivered in the Chicago Convention, in nominating John Sherman: Mr. President; I have witnessed the extraordinary scenes of this convention with deep solicitude. No emotion touches my heart more quickly than sentiments in honor of a great and noble character; but I have thought as I sat on these seats and witnessed these demonstrations that it seemed to me you were a human ocean gathered in this circle. I have seen the sea lashed in its fury and tossed into spray, and there is a grandeur that moves the soul of a man when he looks upon it; but I remember that it is the calm level of the sea from which all heights and depths are measured. (Cheers.)

When the hour of calm settles on the ocean; when the sunlight bathes it, then the astronomer then the surveyor takes the level and measures all terrestrial heights and depths; and, gentlemen of the convention, when the fervor of our enthusiasm has passed, when the occasion of the moment has subsided, it is that calm level of public opinion, below the storm, below the passion, from which the great thoughts of a mighty people are to be measured [cries of "good" and loud applause] and by which they are to be judged. Not here, in this brilliant circle, where 15,000 men and women are gathered, is the destiny of this Republic to be settled for the next four years. [A voice, "that's so" and loud applause.] Not here, where I see the enthusiastic faces of 700 and odd delegates to cast their lot into the urn and determine the fate of the Republic; but by 4,000,000 of Republican firebrands, where 4,000,000 voters, with wives and children about them, with the calm thoughts of home, with the story of their country, with the history of its life, with the knowledge of the great men that have lived upon it, burning down into their hearts—

there God prepares the destiny that shall determine this mighty question. [Loud cheering.] Not in Chicago in the heat of June, but in the Republic, in the quiet, melancholy days of November, when men think and act in the silence of their best judgment, will this question be settled. [Applause.] And now, gentlemen of the convention, what do we want? [A voice, "that's it." Laughter and applause.] What do we want? Bear with me a moment; "bear me for my cause," and for a moment "be silent that you may hear." [Applause.]

Twenty-five years ago this Republic was bearing and wearing the triple chain of bondage. Long familiarity with traffic in the bodies and souls of men had paralyzed and enchainment the consciences of a majority of our people; the narrowing and disintegrating doctrine of State sovereignty had paralyzed the noblest and most beneficent powers of the National Government; and the aggressive power of slavery was seizing the virgin territories of our West, and dragging them into the den of eternal slavery. At that crisis the Republican party was born. It drew its first inspiration from that fire of liberty which God has lighted in every heart, and which no power of slavery has ever been able to wholly extinguish. [Applause.] The Republican party was born out of this great and God-given impulse, and it came to deliver and save. It entered where the beleaguered and assailed territories were struggling for life, and it stood beside them and drew about them the great and sacred circle of liberty. They were forever strengthened by their victory, and the Republicans under the leadership of the great man who, on this spot twenty years ago, was made their leader, they entered the National Capitol and took their high places there. [Applause.] The gleaming light from their banners melted away the shackles of slaves about the capitol, and threw its rays into the darkest corner of every slave pen in Washington.

Decay of the Teeth Arises from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscriminate use of tooth powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatic tooth-wash, FRAGRANT SOUDONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gums, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles.

For loving looks, though fraught with tender- And kindly tears, though they fall thick and fast, And words of praise, alas! can naught avail To lift the shadows from a life that's past. A Madman on a Stage Coach. SAN BERNARDINO, June 16th.—C. N. Baker, who drives the stage coach from this town to Newhall, had an adventure yesterday which he will not soon forget. While making his trip up a passenger named F. C. Mills, a nephew, it is said, of C. Adolphe Low, and who was on the roof seat above and behind the driver, suddenly became insane and declared that he was pursued by two men. Drawing a small new hatchet, he held it over the driver's head, threatening to bury it in his brain if he did not drive faster. Baker, utterly helpless, ran his team at full speed for some seven miles, and finally drew up at the Newhall House, when Mills sprang down and took to the hills, since which time he has not been seen. The poor man was insane some years ago, but was thought to have recovered. The driver, seeing his life in imminent danger, tried to overtake his coach, but the road was too smooth.

In the case of Conrad Weigand, it is verdict of the Coroner's jury was that deceased came to his death by his own hand while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

Grizzly Bear Hunting.

Says the Bridgeport Union, (Mont county), Cal.: Last week a couple of Indians killed a grizzly bear and secured two of her cubs, a mile and a half back of Riekey's station. While eating grass she was disabled by a shot through the shoulder. Standing up on her hind legs she received, at a distance of 200 feet, six shots. The cubs are about five weeks old, and a look at them is greeted with ferocious growls. Also, last week, a large cinnamon bear was killed near Leavitt's station.

A Contingency. "Would you be willing, sir," said a San reporter to the Hon. Wm. M. Evarts, "to retain your office under another administration?"

"That," replied the eminent counsel, putting an additional twist in his legs, "that would depend. Do you happen to know Mrs. Garfield's views upon the rum question?"

A Fervent Response. The following anecdote is told of an African preacher: "He was praying, and in his prayer he said, 'I pray that the power of Satan may be curtailed.' Just then an old darkey in the congregation cried out, 'Yes amen, bress de Lord! Cut him tall right smack smooove off.'"

Good Faith. In the Queensland this unique advertisement appears:

"I HEREBY give my husband, JOHN BENNET, notice that if I do not hear from him within three months from this date I intend to get MARRIED again. FAITH BENNET, Ravenswood, October 23d."

I Wish Everybody to Know, Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen in this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church, just this moment stopped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider that both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure. It is having a tremendous sale over our counters and is giving perfect satisfaction in all cases of Lung Diseases, such as nothing else has done. Bourbon, Ind., May 15, 1892. Drs. Matchett & Francis. Sold by Osburn & Shoe maker, Druggists, Reno, Nevada."

Decay of the Teeth Arises from various causes, but principally it may be attributed to early neglect or the indiscriminate use of tooth powders and pastes, which give a momentary whiteness to the teeth while they corrode the enamel. The timely use of that delicate aromatic tooth-wash, FRAGRANT SOUDONT, will speedily arrest the progress of decay, harden the gums, and impart a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes those ravages which people sustain in their teeth from the use of sweet and acid articles.

A Card. To all who are suffering from the errors and indolence of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you. FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joana T. Linn, Station D, New York City may 10-11-12 DAW

For loving looks, though fraught with tender- And kindly tears, though they fall thick and fast, And words of praise, alas! can naught avail To lift the shadows from a life that's past. And rarest blossoms, what can they suffice. Offer to one who can no longer gaze Upon their beauty? Flow'rs in sooth laid Impact no sweetness on a cupied gaze.

A Madman on a Stage Coach. SAN BERNARDINO, June 16th.—C. N. Baker, who drives the stage coach from this town to Newhall, had an adventure yesterday which he will not soon forget. While making his trip up a passenger named F. C. Mills, a nephew, it is said, of C. Adolphe Low, and who was on the roof seat above and behind the driver, suddenly became insane and declared that he was pursued by two men. Drawing a small new hatchet, he held it over the driver's head, threatening to bury it in his brain if he did not drive faster. Baker, utterly helpless, ran his team at full speed for some seven miles, and finally drew up at the Newhall House, when Mills sprang down and took to the hills, since which time he has not been seen. The poor man was insane some years ago, but was thought to have recovered. The driver, seeing his life in imminent danger, tried to overtake his coach, but the road was too smooth.

In the case of Conrad Weigand, it is verdict of the Coroner's jury was that deceased came to his death by his own hand while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity.

—D. Banks McKenzie will lecture on Temperance in Truckee to-morrow evening.
—J. K. Everett has a lot of fresh groceries. Full weight, no adulterations.
—Charles Hartson left Lee's yard last evening for Susanville, with a ten-horse team loaded with general merchandise.
—When the Grand Lodge meets in Reno next August the Knights of Pythias will celebrate the occasion with one of their pleasant parties.

—Dr. McKenzie is giving a series of Sunday evening talks, which should be listened to by the young. His subject next Sunday will be "Why do we enter life?"
—The high water in the river this season has made a wide channel on the south side of the island below the mill dam. The current has washed away a good deal of the bank on that side, and the south branch now carries a great volume of water.
—S. P. Warren & Co. of San Francisco are in correspondence with Jas. A. Scott of Reno regarding the sale of the Manhattan mine. They state that they have sold two California mines in New York during the past three months.

New Town at Walker Lake.

Says the Candelaria True Figure: Since the actual beginning of work on the Carson and Colorado Railroad, many are speculating on the probable site for a town on Walker Lake. If the road shall reach some point on the lake this fall it is possible mills for some of the mines here will be built there, with the end in view, if the Carson and Colorado should suspend operations at that point, of a narrow gauge being built from here by a mining syndicate—for the purpose of transporting ores to the lake—where wood and water would be cheap, and where low grade ores could be worked at a profit.

Card from the Calico Ball Committee.
The Committee of ladies conducting the calico ball, in aid of Mt. St. Mary's Academy, desire to return their sincere and hearty thanks to their kind and liberal friends of all denominations for their generous aid to the worthy object of their efforts.

That all may share in the joy of the successful result of their labors, they append a statement of the receipts and disbursements as follows (though returns are not yet entirely in):

ACCIDENT AT BODIE.

San Francisco Firemen Injured.

In Bodie yesterday three miners were dangerously injured by an accidental explosion of a giant powder cartridge, in the Bodie mine.

Resignation of Marcus D. Boruck.
M. D. Boruck has resigned the secretaryship of the State Republican Committee. This step was taken against the wish of the Committee and despite the remonstrances of his friends, all of whom express regret that Mr. Boruck has severed his active connection with the Committee.

Appealing For Porter.
BURLINGTON, June 17.—The Fifth army corps, in annual session, unanimously adopted a resolution asking Congress to consider the matter of General Fitz Porter without bias, and purely as a matter of justice.

Jere Black's Vindication of Garfield.
WASHINGTON, June 16.—A letter has been produced from Jere Black, dated in 1873, in which he completely vindicates Garfield from any wrong in connection with the Credit Mobilier matter.

Pollard Figures in a Shooting Affray at Tuscarora.

About 6 o'clock last evening, says the Times-Review, there was a shooting affair between C. Hughes, the brother of Marancy, who arrived here a few days ago, and Pollard, the reputed female husband of the aforesaid Marancy. Hughes' account of the affair is as follows: He says that Pollard drove up on a wagon to the house where he and his sister were stopping. Some sharp and threatening words were interchanged, when Samrah drove a six-shooter and leveled it on his brother-in-law. The latter pulled his gun and blazed away at Pollard, who was on the box of the wagon. Samrah returned the fire, and two shots each were exchanged between the parties, none of which, however, did any damage. Samrah then drove off, and active hostilities ceased. There were no arrests and no complaint has been entered in the Justice Court against either the belligerent or the belligerent.

Denver and Leadville.

B. F. Lee is enthusiastic in regard to Colorado. A GAZETTE reporter interviewed him this morning and found him very much pleased with his trip. He says the reduction works at Denver simply constitute an immense fire assay and all the ores are worked in that way. The city of Denver is the Paris of America. There are brick houses enough now being built to make a town like Reno. Leadville is a city of 40,000 people. The ore bodies in sight measure up in the millions. The deepest mine is 284 feet. All the mines are frozen. If a man leaves a drill in a hole where there is water when he goes to dinner, he finds it frozen in when he gets back. There is no vegetation on timber except a tall, slim tamarack which grows sixty feet high and is not over six inches thick at the ground. The soil is rich but nothing can grow at such an elevation. Mr. Lee says the J. & K. ore worked nicely. The company will not put up works, however, until they have studied the ore enough to know what will work it best. They do not intend to make any mistakes.

One Fire and Nearly Another.

The little brick house near Dunsmuir's on Ralston street, occupied as a dwelling, was gutted by fire yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The walls were left standing, but bedding, furniture, carpets, etc., were badly damaged. The fire was started by matches lying on the window sill. Matt Parrott put out an incipient conflagration in the rear of his shop at 9 o'clock last night. Some one had thrown ashes with coals in them against a fence which was soon in a blaze.

The Fourth of July.

The Reform Club meets this evening to arrange matters for the Fourth. The public are invited to join the Club in the effort to get up an entertainment which will draw the people into town on that day. Nearly every one has a few dollars he intends to spend in celebrating, and Reno had better get people here and keep the money at home than let them scatter.

THE INDIAN COMPLICATIONS.

The Washoe Averse to War, But Not Afraid—Captain Jim Gives Explanation of the Difficulty With Winnemucca.

Captain Jim, of the Reno Division of the Washoe Indians, called at the GAZETTE office to-day to make answer to the allegations of Capt. Dave, the Piute chieftain, which were published yesterday in these columns. Capt. Jim considers that the Piutes have no cause for war, and don't care a d—n if they have. He says that the feast given here a few days since was under his direction, and that none but Washoes were invited. That Winnemucca and Capt. Dave, being uninvited Piutes, had no business on the ground, and therefore had nothing to complain of if they were coldly treated. The tap with the rope which Winnemucca complained of was given by a young Washoe from Genoa, who was drunk at the time.

Capt. Jim avers that the Washoes want no war, and he thinks old Winnemucca and Capt. Dave very foolish for trying to stir up hostilities. The Washoe position is one of avowed independence. They say in substance: "We don't want to fight, but, by jingo, if we do, we've got the men, we've got the guns, we've got the blankets, too!"

Capt. Jim further wishes it understood that Winnemucca and Capt. Dave had better not come about here stirring up trouble. They would do well to go right through Reno without stopping. He doesn't want them to come on his ground except when traveling.

Capt. Jim goes to Carson to-morrow to consult with Capt. Joe and also with Sam Davis in regard to the situation, and for the purpose of mapping out a scientific frontier.

PERSONAL.

Gen. B. F. Butler and party, in their special car, came up with the lightning train as far as Colfax last night, where the special was taken out of the train.

Owner Wanted.

A postal card was received yesterday morning directed to the Reno GAZETTE, dated San Francisco, June 15. Worded thus:

With compliments send you per mail, box of our celebrated Phoenix cigar and hope they may at least afford you a few moments pleasure.

Yours, MESSRS. LEWIS & CO.

This morning a small box arrived, directed Reno GAZETTE, Reno, Nevada, and in one corner was marked "Mr. Powning." This throws a cloud on the title and Mr. Powning is requested to come around, prove property and pay charges, otherwise the package will be opened and the goods devoted to charity.

Ready to Start.

J. T. Davis came up this morning, and the party of railroad men are looking around for depot grounds to-day. Mr. Davis says there will be 50 miles built this summer. They are trying to find a good man for engineer.

I. Frederick's watch work has always given entire satisfaction. mari
